

An aerial photograph of an airport terminal complex. The terminal consists of several long, parallel hangar-like buildings with grey roofs. A road runs along the right side of the terminal. In the upper left, a green diamond marks a location, with a green arrow pointing to it from a text box. In the lower right, a red diamond marks another location, with a red arrow pointing to it from a text box. The surrounding area includes parking lots, some vegetation, and a runway or taxiway with the number '30' visible.
