

The Second Approach

The IMC Club is all about mastering the art of instrument flying. At each meeting we consider specific scenarios that takes us to a decision point. Then, in a structured manner, we discuss alternatives and firsthand experiences. Using this scenario, we will discuss the critical need for a solid, organized approach towards Aeronautical Decision Making considering the Pilot in Command, the airplane and the environment.

Directions: Go northwest on Flightline Drive to Broadway, turn left (West) to Atlantic and look for the green FAA Safety signs.
