

SC FSDO FAAS Team presents:

National Weather Service Products for Pilots

The National Weather Service (NWS) issues a wide range of aviation weather products and services for the National Airspace System (NAS). The NWS products and services are provided by the Aviation Weather Center (AWC), the Alaska Aviation Weather Unit (AAWU), Center Weather Service Units (CWSU), and Weather Forecast Offices (WFO). In this interactive webinar, NWS Meteorologist Pierce Larkin will review the products available to all pilots of the aviation community.
