

October Topic of the Month - Human Performance

A GAJSC study of Fatal General Aviation Loss of Control Accidents found that a significant number of accidents have identified human performance deficiencies. The GAJSC feels that basic Human Factors education is beneficial to all pilots. In this interactive seminar, we discuss:

- Understanding Pilot capabilities
- Pilots' ability to assess the capabilities required for flight operations with their knowledge and skills
- Maintaining and improving pilots' performance skills and abilities.

This is a closed event open only to members of Wings Over Winyah Flying Club members only. For further information contact FAASafety Team Rep. Walter McElveen at (843) 340-0035.
