

Monthly Safety Meeting Gatorland Aviators

Every safe flight begins long before the engine starts, beginning with the pilot.

Join us for an engaging discussion with Joe Cirulli, founder and owner of Gainesville Health & Fitness. An instrument rated pilot with more than four decades of flying experience. Drawing from a lifetime of leadership, health, and aviation, Joe will explore the importance of preparing you mentally and physically before every flight. From stress management and physical readiness to mindset, discipline, and decision-making. Joe will share practical habits that help pilots perform at their best in the cockpit.

Whether you're a student pilot or seasoned aviator, this presentation will provide valuable insights into building routines that improve safety, confidence, and overall flight performance.
