

Personal Minimums

This presentation is based on FAA guidance for each pilot, encouraging them to be honest about their capabilities on any given day, in changeable conditions, establishing personal minimums that are framed by real experience, not FAA regulations. The presentation will review how a single pilot can utilize airline-based crew resource management skills as decision-making aides before and during flight.

Directions: Rectrix Aerodrome Center is located just off Clyde Jones Road on the north east side of Sarasota airport. There will be signage provided to guide you to the room.
