

Tampa FAASTeam presents:

Cold Weather Flying

This will be a scenario based training covering flights for GA aircraft during cold weather conditions. Even though you live in Florida, awareness of cold weather flying is critical for your safe operation of GA aircraft.

Have you considered what you should carry onboard incase of a forced landing? Let's talk about spending time waiting to be rescued if you are forced down.

Directions: Please check in at the FBO to provide escort to the conf room, if you do not already have gate access to the airport.

Please contact one of the following cell phones upon arrival if you need assistance into the facility.
