

Night Operations

Come join us on Saturday, July 15th, 2023 from 10am-noon at the Florida Flight Training Center (KVNC), for an in depth discussion of safety considerations when flying at night. The presentation will review several accidents and their likely causes. Also presented will be a review aeromedical factors, illusions, pre-flight planning and considerations, enroute safety, and general night operating knowledge every pilot needs to consider, and should be familiar with in the planning and safe operating of aircraft during periods of darkness, low visibility, and IMC conditions.

Attendees can park at either Florida Flight Training Center location at 160 & 220 Airport Avenue East, Venice, Florida 34285. This is at the KVNC Airport for those flying in. For those flying in please plan to park at the Suncoast FBO.
