

San Juan FSDO/FAA Team presents:

Flying After Inactivity

"Just how long has it been since I have flown?"

Many pilots think about inactivity in terms of months or years before they need to meet with a CFI, when an honest assessment may reveal the need for some dual flying after a period of just weeks. The goal should be to get proficient and at the same time meeting the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) requirements to act as PIC. An excellent way to regain your skills after a layoff is by using the WINGS Program. For that matter, it is an excellent way to maintain skills during a time of infrequent flying. We will take this opportunity to update/refresh/or create everyone's knowledge about the WINGS Program. That includes how it works, how it can benefit pilots and instructors, and how the evidence has shown that pilots who participate have fewer accidents.

Directions: ATTENTION: THIS EVENT IS BEING HELD AT ISLA GRANDE FLYING SCHOOL AND NOT AT THE INTERAMERICAN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF AERONAUTICS.

Proceed towards the Fernando Luis Ribas Dominicci Airport at Isla Grande, PR. As you enter the airport area, turn to the right to take the main road TO THE NORTH SIDE OF THE AIRPORT and continue on the road past the cruise ship ports until you reach the Isla Grande Flying School. The meeting will be held in the classroom on the 2nd floor.
