

Rotorcraft Directorate ASW-100 presents:

2016 International Rotorcraft Safety Conference

Inadvertent Flight in Instrument Meteorological Conditions (IIMC) is an equally deadly and perplexing issue. While often claiming the lives of untrained pilots in minimally equipped aircraft, IIMC also regularly kills experienced, instrument-rated pilots in very capable IFR certified platforms. Tired of mourning victims of fatal IIMC accidents, the Airborne Law Enforcement Association partnered with industry professionals to understand why these types of accidents occur and how to prevent them. It is an old problem that requires new solutions. In this presentation we will share new ideas about the causes of IIMC, as well as real-world solutions about how to avoid, survive, and train for IIMC.
