Event Overview

The PAMA 2009 Aviation Maintenance & Management Symposium provides a forum for all things relating to aircraft maintenance and maintenance management.

Who Should Attend

- * Directors of Maintenance
- * FBO Managers
- * Aircraft Maintenance Managers
- * Aircraft Maintenance Technicians
- * Government Agencies
- * Aircraft Owners with an interest in maintenance

Maintenance managers in particular will benefit from programs in management, leadership and delegation; departmental operations; budgeting and customer service — in short, all the things a professional maintenance manager needs to know to be successful.

Aviation technicians with an eye on advancement should also attend Friday's management presentations. In addition, a selection of more than 32 hours of IA renewal courses in three tracks will be offered throughout the two-day event, just in time for the March 31 deadline!

What to Expect

Topics Planned:

- Aviation Safety
- PAMA/SAE Institute Certification
- Effective Management
- FAA Updates
- Improved techniques and Practices
- Legal Factors
- Manufacturer/Industry Updates
  - Bombardier
  - Dallas Airmotive
  - Dassault
  - Honeywell
- Professional Development

Symposium Leadership

General Chair

Roger Sickler
President, Air Land
Turbine Services Inc.

Technical

Program Chair
