

Pilot In Command: Who is calling the shots?

Join Lisa Simonds in a participative presentation and discussion that explores our responsibilities as pilots in command. We will discuss

- Pilot In Command: What does "PIC" imply?
- Discussion of one 2009 fatal accident
- Pilot's responsibilities in contrast to controller's responsibilities
- Effect of events and culture on executing those responsibilities

Directions: From Interstate 35, take exit 342A to Crest Dr. Turn east onto Crest Ave. Drive approximately 0.8 miles on Crest Dr. and look for Airline Drive on your right. Turn right onto Airline Dr. Drive approximately 0.5 miles on Airline Drive and look for 6th street on your left. Turn left on 6th street and into the parking lot for the Aerospace Center. The Aerospace Center is a large two story gray building with red trim.

The seminar will be held in classrooms 5 and 6 of the Col. James T. Connally Aerospace Center. You can enter the building directly from the ramp or the main parking lot.
