Don't miss the chance to drive or fly into the TSTC Airport (KCNW) to hear Lisa Simonds discuss the term "Pilot In Command" from both sides of the microphone.

Lisa is an active pilot who earned her certificate in 1975 at Mangham Field in Hurst, TX. She is also a second-generation air traffic controller who worked at Fort Worth ARTCC. Lisa spent much of her 30-year FAA career performing operational assessments at towers, TRACONS, ARTCCs, and Flight Service Stations throughout the United States. She advocates education on both sides of the microphone to improve aviation safety.

Pilots are urged to bring their spouses and friends. Admission is FREE and open to the public. The seminar will be held in classrooms 5 and 6 of TSTC's Col. James T. Connally Aerospace Center. Pilots attending the seminar will be eligible for WINGS credit.
