

NTX FAASTeam SW19 presents:

Flight Planning with EFB - A ForeFlight Workshop

Join us on the first Monday of each month for a virtual interactive workshop on the widely used ForeFlight electronic flight bag (EFB) and flight planning application. The workshop, led by Captains Brian Schiff and Mike Jesch, will commence on May 1, 2023.

The workshop will offer comprehensive training on the use of ForeFlight, with a focus on essential regulations and techniques for flight planning, Federal Aviation Regulations (FARs), Aeronautical Information Manual (AIM) content, and aeronautical decision-making (ADM). The workshop's pace will be reasonable, ensuring attendees thoroughly understand ForeFlight's functionality without feeling overwhelmed. Attendees can tailor the content to their needs by posing questions and contributing their own tips and tricks. Attending will undoubtedly enrich your understanding of ForeFlight while learning from other pilots' collective knowledge.
