THE SCHIFF SHOW at Sea - They Are Not Uncontrolled Airports

This session is light-hearted yet serious, and it's a conversation, not a lecture. We'll cover procedures, best practices, and real-world risks at the most common type of airport in the National Airspace System, using real scenarios, audience questions, and a few "what would you do?" moments. You'll leave more confident, more predictable in the pattern, and better prepared for your next arrival without ATC assistance.

This is being held aboard the Discovery Princess as part of THE SCHIFF SHOW at Sea Aviation Symposium. There is a cost to board the ship, and all details can be found here or by pasting the link into a browser: https://www.captainschiff.com/cruising
