

On Being Pilot-In-Command

Come invest some time with an expert who will offer advice and techniques that will improve your ability to safely command an airplane with confidence! The evening will prove to be both entertaining and educational. You will learn techniques on decision-making, interactions with ATC and review some accidents that resulted from a pilot NOT in command of his airplane. We will also discuss events with successful outcomes due to exemplary PIC skills. You know how to fly an airplane, now come learn how to command one. Your speaker, Brian Schiff, is a 29-year veteran instructor, 25-year airline pilot with over 18,000 hours.
