

FAASTeam presents:

Back Country Adventures

Ramona Cox is known for her 3-4 month SOLO air-camping adventures flying her Cessna TU-206 into some of North America's most remote and challenging, short, rough, high-altitude, no-go-around back-country airstrips. Packing her plane with an inflatable kayak, motorized bike, REI tent, mobile office essentials and an arsenal of weapons, she dodges wolves, bear and mountain lion, confronts "un-forecasted" storms and fends off animals attacking her plane with her in it! Her fast-paced multi-media presentation is packed with stunning photos and action-packed videos plus flying tips, destination suggestions and useful gear recommendations for air-campers and general pilots alike. Lots of humor, combined with spine-chilling real-life drama and lessons learned will surely keep you on the edge of your seat.

Her adventurous lifestyle led to being featured as AOPA's Pilot of the Month, on Time Warner Cable, CNN, AOL and in numerous online and printed publications. She is a board member of the Aero Club of Southern California and handles West Coast sales for MotoArt, a company that fabricates furniture using real aircraft parts.
