Surviving Forced Landings

This monthly seminar features Dean Engelhardt, a pilot well-known for his ability to perform planned forced landings and airplane crashes in the support of making movies and television shows. Crash techniques developed by Dean enables him to provide techniques on how to survive a crashout without personal injury. Dean provides real life knowledge of how to crash and survive. Don't try this at home!

Directions: The SNA Chapter of SoCal Pilots Association holds their monthly meetings in the Airport Commission Meeting room in the airport administration building on the corner of Paularino and Airway Avenues. Enter from the parking lot, rear of building near the tower.
