

FAASTeam presents:

What the Chief Instructor Sees with Jay Mason

For our February EAA Chapter 92 meeting, join us for some insights from the chief instructor of a busy flight school at KSNA. The job of a Chief Flight Instructor entails being a source of inspiration and oversight for all the instructors and students at a flight school. As such, our speaker tonight - Jay Mason - gets an opportunity to see all the sorts of struggles you might imagine - and probably some you can't! Whether you're a student pilot just starting out, an old hand coming in for some recurrent training, or use your own freelance instructor, some common issues and questions always seem to come up, and Jay can help you get a handle on them and be better prepared for your next visit.

Directions: On Sand Canyon Avenue between the 5 and 405. Corner of Sand Canyon and Waterworks Way. Turn LEFT after entering parking lot from Sand Canyon. If entering from Waterworks Way, continue through parking lot to SECOND building. Follow signs to Community Conference Room in 15500 Sand Canyon building.
