

FAA Safety Team presents:

IMC-VMC Club Meeting - PHX TRACON (Off-Site) Operation Raincheck

Please join us for this Phoenix TRACON, Operation Raincheck "off-site" presentation by Phoenix TRACON controller Matt Schorman.

This 1-1.5 hour program was created to allow controllers and pilots to interact one-on-one with a short presentation followed by a question and answer session, and is basically the same presentation given by Mr. Schorman at Sky Harbor. Only thing missing is the tower and TRACON tour.

Discussions will include best operating practices with some additional emphasis for IFR operations, review of Phoenix area hot spots, Class Bravo transition and a general overview of what controllers do at the TRACON, and conclude with question and answers.

If you've ever tried to register for the "on-site" presentation including the tour, you know how difficult it is, as the event often sells out in minutes. In the pilot universe, "Operation Rain Check" is the hottest ticket in town. Or maybe you are a student pilot from abroad, and not a U.S. citizen, therefore don't meet the tower entry requirements. For whatever reason you haven't been able to attend this informative presentation at Sky Harbor, this is your opportunity to learn about the inner workings of ATC, meet a controller face to face, and ask questions. Please register and plan join us for this great opportunity.

Seating is limited so please register soon. EAA/IMC Club, through the EAA's global Chapter structure, provides organized "hangar flying" focused on building instrument flying knowledge and skills. The program's network promotes a safety culture through continued education and believes that we develop safety and proficiency through education and real life experience. Monthly meetings offer an opportunity to share in-flight experiences and valuable safety tips. Through the FAA Safety Program, aviation professionals provide informative WINGS presentations. You do not have to be an instrument rated pilot to attend. Membership in the EAA/IMC Club is encouraged but not required to participate in this meeting.
