

AAM - Where Are We Right Now?

This 1-hour webinar will introduce you to the basics of Advanced Air Mobility (AAM) and answer these questions and more. What is the current situation in the AAM industry here in the US? What about the FAA regulations, plans, policies, and roadmaps? What phase of certification have these new aircraft (powered-lift) achieved? How will the landing surface look with respect to vertiports and modified heliports? How will the airspace adapt with proposed airways? What additional infrastructure will airports require? What States in the US are leading the way in terms of preparation? All these questions and more will be answered.
