

Drones And Airport Safety

Drones are becoming increasingly common in our airspace, creating new opportunities as well as new safety challenges around airports. This month, FAA Part 107 certificated drone operator Court Leve will discuss what drone pilots need to know to operate safely, including airspace restrictions, authorization requirements, and areas where drone operations are prohibited or restricted.

Joining the discussion will be representatives from the Central California Intelligence Center (CCIC) and the FBI, who will provide insight into drone detection systems, stories of recent drone interference with TFR's, and the proper procedures for reporting suspicious or hazardous drone activity near airports. Whether you're a pilot, drone operator, or aviation enthusiast, this seminar will offer valuable information on keeping our skies safe for everyone.
