

FAASTeam presents:

Un Vuelo Seguro: Safely Crossing the Border into Mexico

Are you planning a flight across the US border into Canada or Mexico? With research and advanced planning, your journey can be a fast, smooth, and safe experience. In this seminar, we will come together as pilots to discuss the issues that arise with the southern crossing into Mexico, and how to ensure that you've prepared for what is to come.

This seminar got its start when a group of pilots from the SF Bay Area's FlyOutGroup decided to join Bush Pilots International on their annual Baja Whale Watching trip to Baja Mexico planned for March 14-17. FlyOutGroup instructors and pilots regularly put together cross-country adventure flights, often including a training component, as in this trip's crossing of the US border. Training for and taking on new adventures together makes for a more social learning environment.

In this seminar, we will discuss in general:
<!--[if !supportLists]-->• what aircraft and pilot documentation is required for crossing into Mexico and back into the US, and how to obtain it
<!--[if !supportLists]-->• how to certify your airplane for legal border crossing, especially to get back into the US
<!--[if !supportLists]-->• insurance considerations
