

Mountain Flying in Southern Nevada and Basic Med

Flight proficiency in and around the mountains is especially crucial in the Southern Nevada area, particularly as the weather begins to warm up. This seminar will cover mountain weather, reading the clouds, density altitude, and planning cross countries in mountainous terrain, and common pilot errors when flying in the mountains. The New Basic Med Rule. Does it apply to you? Find out during this overview of the new rules.

Directions: Grand Canyon Room in the Terminal Bldg
