

FAASTeam presents:

LA Airspace Then and Now Did You Ever Wonder Why

Did you know that Fullerton was the test case for something we all take for granted today? Do you know which transition over LAX has had the most serious changes? Do you know what TARP stands for and what it can do for you and to you? Learn all the latest news about the Los Angeles Area Airspace from the foremost expert on the subject, Hawthorne-based Pilot Examiner Pat Carey. Pat has a long history and intimate knowledge of all aspects of area airspace, and serves as the chairman of the Southern California Airspace Users Working Group. For over 30 years, he has been involved in continuous improvements to the safety and usability of the airspace system, and you will know and understand the area like you never have before!
