

FAASTeam presents:

ADS-B: Will it Affect Me? Learn About the Mandate, its Impact, and Solutions.

The FAA's "NextGen" program is moving forward. By 2020, all aircraft operating in certain US airspace will need to possess ADS-B equipment. Will you have to comply with this mandate? Will there be any changes to your flight habits? Will it cost me money? Come learn about the law, its impact on operations, and some solutions to meet the equipment requirements. Specific emphasis will be given to flying in Missouri and its neighboring states. Enjoy this enlightening and entertaining presentation along with your fellow aviation enthusiasts. Doors open at 6:30. Refreshments available. Door prizes, too!

Directions: From Columbia: Take U.S. Highway 63 South, about 8 miles, take the Rt H exit and proceed east through the round-about on Rt H to Airport Road. Turn south on Airport Road and follow the signs to the main terminal and parking. From Jefferson City: Take U.S. 63 North; take the Route H exit and proceed east on Rt H to Airport Road. Turn south on Airport Road and follow the signs to the main terminal and parking. The event will be in the conference room on the flight line side of building 280, the former National Weather Service building identifiable by the white radar dome on top! Enter through the door between the North Terminal and the Main Terminal. Flying in? Park at Central Missouri Aviation and walk 1 block across the parking lot to the venue. Easy!
