

FAASTeam presents:

Accident Survivability and Recovery

We try our best to always land intentionally at airports. Yet, for a multitude of reasons we may find ourselves in the middle of nowhere hoping to be found and survived. Please join us for a discussion of what you can do to increase your chances of being found in this unlucky situation, as well as how you can prepare and what actions to take in order to survive the longest. We will emphasize not only how preparation makes a difference, but also provide you with some tips and tricks to help out. Finally, we will also provide you with a vide of "the other side", that is the search and rescue operations that are trying to find you.

Directions: Please register for Accident Survivability and Recovery on Oct 20, 2020 7:00 PM PDT at: <https://attendee.gotowebinar.com/register/7191201180439783950>
After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the webinar.
