

Advocates for Aviation Safety Foundation

The Advocates for Aviation Safety Foundation mission is to work with Kevin Clover and the FAASTeam to save lives by improving the nation's aviation accident and incident rate

Upcoming FAA Safety Team Seminars

You don't want to miss this presentation. Space is limited at some locations so please arrive early. This could be alive or tape delayed broadcast.

Monday September 21, 2009 12:00AM ... Lakeland, Florida 33811

ATN/ESP BROADCAST - #305 TBA

You don't want to miss this presentation. Space is limited at some locations so please arrive early. This could be alive or tape delayed broadcast.

News by Aero-News Network & Aero TV

Courtesy of the Aero-News Network, ANN supports whole-heartedly all activities that further the cause of aviation safety and help to save lives.

last updated: 09-10-2008 14:33:23

Terminated: DoD Tanks KC-X

Termination of KC-X Tanker Solicitation Confirmed The Department of Defense has notified the Congress and the two competing contractors, Boeing and Northrop Grumman, that it is terminating the current competition for a U.S. Air Force airborne tanker replacement.

Aero-TV: AOPA's Greg Romano Talks About The 'Mission'

AOPA's VP Of Public Relations 'Hails' (Pun Intended) From NOAA Phil Boyer has served admirably as the figurehead and decision maker for one of aviation's most productive and progressive organizations... but one man (even the leader) does not an organization make.

Hubble Repair Mission Includes New Challenges, Increased Risks

Daunting Tasks Must Be Accomplished In VERY Hostile Environment Astronauts preparing for the upcoming STS-125 mission to service the Hubble Space Telescope -- the last such flight ever to the orbital observatory -- have a daunting tasks ahead of them. Not only will they be performing some of the most complex tasks ever in the history of the shuttle program... but they'll be doing so in a decidedly unwelcoming neighborhood.

Headlines Check now Preferences Help Hide Exit

Services

Anbabug

4:16 PM