

Enhancements to www.FAASafety.gov

Effective September 15, 2011

Changes Applicable to All Users (including CFIs)

1. Based on a recent analysis of accidents in the years 2008, 2009, and 2010, and in accordance with paragraph 4 of Advisory Circular 61-91J, WINGS – Pilot Proficiency Program, we have revised the required subjects at the Basic level of the WINGS Program. One of the advantages of the WINGS Program on FAASafety.gov is the dynamic nature of the requirements. When an area that deserves greater emphasis is discovered, we can address that subject almost immediately.

Please note that all the current subjects are still valid; however, we are adding a new key subject area for the Basic Knowledge 3 slot and moving Runway Safety so it is a required element of Knowledge 1 – Aeronautical Decision Making. The new Basic Level lineup looks like this:

Basic Level:

- Knowledge 1 - Aeronautical Decision Making
- Knowledge 2 - Performance and Limitations
- Knowledge 3 - Preflight Planning, Risk Management, and Fuel Management
Alternate Knowledge 3 – Other Subjects (as listed on FAASafety.gov)
- Flight 1 - Takeoffs and Landings
- Flight 2 - Positive Aircraft Control
- Flight 3 - Basic Flying Skills

By adding Preflight Planning, Risk Management, and Fuel Management as a major component of the Knowledge 3 subject area, we hope to generate increased emphasis on this vital part of flying. In addition, an increased level of awareness of Risk Management principles will have a positive impact on the number of accidents by General Aviation pilots. Furthermore, by including a discussion of decision-making principles associated with Runway Safety, we hope to reduce the number of General Aviation runway incursions.

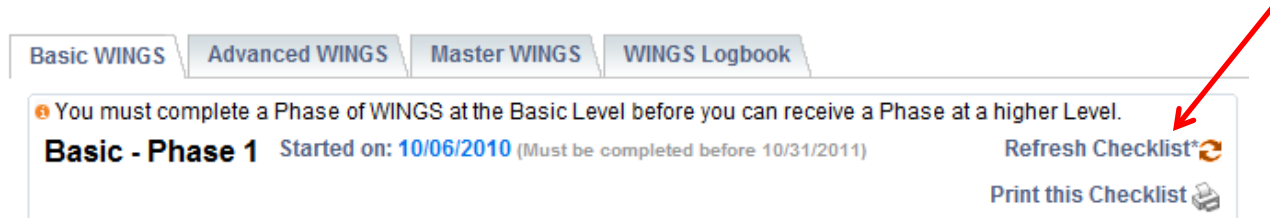

New syllabi have been written and are available now for activity, course, and seminar creators. We will add additional activities, courses and seminars to the list of available credit items over the next several months.

By the way, the analysis of accidents report referred to above will be available in early October on FAASafety.gov. When it is available, we invite you to review it for the positive implications of participation in the WINGS Program.

2. The WINGS Timeline has been removed from the Activity History page and is available on your My WINGS page only. The tool tip that is displayed when you hover over the credit indicator in the WINGS Timeline now includes the specific “slot” it was applied to; i.e., Knowledge 1, Flight 2, etc.

- The “Refresh Checklist” feature on the My WINGS page, which was an extra, non-automated step you had to remember to use when you changed your Airman Profile, is now automated anytime you change and save your Airman Profile. The link indicated by the arrow will no longer be displayed on a user’s My WINGS page. It will still be displayed on an Administrator’s page - RFM and above – for their use.

- We added the User name and email address to the MY AMT training history report.

The screenshot shows the "My AMT Training History" report for Bryan Neville (bryan.neville@faasafety.gov). It includes a dropdown for the year (2011) and a section for "Core Courses and Activities" with a table of training records. A red arrow points to the user's name and email address at the top of the report.

Course Title	Course Provider	Training Hours
Annual Training Record	Whats Itz	44.00
Annual Training Record	More Itz	33.00

Total AMT Training Hours: 77.00

- We finally have a WINGS Achievement Roster available on FAASafety.gov. The link to the list is right there on the Home page in a new portal just below the WINGS Portal. All pilots who have earned a phase of WINGS can be found in this roster, including the highest phase they earned. So that the web site display speed is not adversely impacted, names on the list are only updated every three hours.

We added an option on your My Preferences page so that you can elect not to have your name displayed, if that is your preference. On the actual roster, only FAA employees will be able to see all the names of users who have earned a phase of WINGS, including those who have “Opted Out,” which will be indicated by an asterisk.

The screenshot shows the FAASafety.gov homepage with several portals:

- AMT Awards Program: The AMT Awards program encourages AMTs and employers to take advantage of initial and recurrent training by issuing awards based on training received. Includes links for "Tutorial for Individuals" and "Tutorial for Employers".
- WINGS: Find out how the WINGS program can help you construct an educational curriculum suitable for your unique flight requirements! Includes a "User Guide" link.
- CFI Portal: The place for instructors to validate WINGS credits! Instructors do not have to log in first; just click the link below. Includes a link to "Enter CFI Portal".
- FAASafety Directory: Search by phone number, first or last name, city or state, position or keyword. Includes a "Search" button.
- WINGS Achievement Roster: We are excited to report that 10,674 pilots have earned at least one phase in the WINGS - Pilot Proficiency Program. Includes a link to "See the list and find your name".
- FAASafety Industry Members: FAASafety Industry Members are industries, organizations, businesses and associations that support the FAASafety at a national level and who have a vested interest in aviation safety. Includes links for "National Association of Flight Instructors (NAFI)" and "National Aviation Safety Foundation".

The contractor, who was independently funded by the Department of Defense, is now working on the user help files and administrative sections of this project.

- The AMT credit in the Activity History has been revised so it shows the actual AMT credit, rather than the words "No Credit". In addition, for FAA staff, the credit now also appears in the "Single User Report". (The "No Credits" entry shown in the example below is because the credit has not yet been validated; it still shows as "Requested.")

8. We added a new tab, called “Other,” on your User Preferences page that will accomplish two things. First, members of the Civil Air Patrol (CAP) will be able to enter their CAP ID number so that in the near future we will be able to add a feature that will coordinate their CAP records with WINGS participation. Note that if you make an entry error, you can change the number and click on “Save” at any time. Second, if you do not want your name listed in the WINGS Achievement Roster, you will be able to “opt out” on this page.

The screenshot shows the 'Other' tab selected in a navigation bar with tabs: General & Email, Password, Certificates & Ratings, Airman Registry, Seminar Preferences, Other, and a partially visible 'CI' tab. Below the tabs, a text block states: 'This preferences section allows you to specify additional information that is used to share data with the Civil Air Patrol, as you wish for your name to appear in the WINGS Achievement Roster, should you complete a Phase of WINGS. Click here to Other Settings'. The main content area is titled 'Civil Air Patrol (CAP) ID' and includes the instruction 'Enter Civil Air Patrol (CAP) ID for Bryan Neville (up to 7 numeric characters)'. There is a text input field, two CAP logos, and a section titled 'Opt In WINGS Achievement Roster' with the instruction 'Please check this box if you wish for your name and earned WINGS phases to be publicly available on FAASafety.gov.' and a checked checkbox. A 'Save' button is at the bottom.

9. We added another category of Support on the drop down menu on the “Contact Support” page. You can now choose “Compliment or Complaint” as an option.

The screenshot shows the 'Contact Support' page with the instruction 'Please select a category:'. A dropdown menu is open, displaying a list of support categories. The 'Compliment or Complaint' option is highlighted with a green background. The categories listed are: AMT Awards Program, Change Email Address / Password, Change Email Settings, Close Account, Compliment or Complaint, Credit Validation, CFI Permissions, FPM or Representative Support, Online Courses, Problems logging in, Suggestion, Website Issue, WINGS - Pilot Proficiency Program, and Other. A 'Cancel' button is visible to the right of the dropdown.

10. Now that there is a report that CFIs can use to prove to a FSDO that they conducted WINGS activities, we needed a way for the CFI to confirm that he or she conducted that activity. So, we added a required response to the Credit Validation form (For Flight Activities only) so that when instructors validate WINGS credit, they have to indicate whether they conducted the activity. This response will appear on that report for future activities. For past activities, a yes or no box is provided on the report and the CFI has to manually check either “Yes” or “No” before they present the report to the FSDO.

Because of your "permission level" on FAASafety.gov, it is possible for you to validate WINGS training credit actually given by another flight instructor. To insure accurate recordkeeping, we ask that you record whether you flew with the pilot and conducted this training (answer "yes") or if you did not fly with this pilot and the training was conducted by someone else (answer "no").

My WINGS

WINGS User's GuideWINGS Advisory Circular

Welcome to your personalized My WINGS Page!

The WINGS – Pilot Proficiency Program is designed to help you build a program of recurrent training consistent with your distinctive flight requirements. To accomplish each Phase of WINGS, you can attend safety seminars, take online courses, and demonstrate flight proficiency. You must earn 6 credits to complete a Phase of WINGS - 3 knowledge activity credits and 3 flight activity credits. To ensure you receive a well-rounded learning experience, only selected activities fulfill certain credit requirements. (You can see more details of the WINGS Program by clicking on the blue banner below.)

Although there are Advanced and Master Levels for pilots wishing to demonstrate a higher level of skill and proficiency, most pilots will be satisfied with accomplishments at the Basic Level. While you may earn additional Phases by completing 3 additional knowledge activities and 3 additional flight activities, the program only requires you to complete a Phase once every 12 calendar months.

Pilots may earn a Phase of WINGS using a seaplane, and get a distinctive Sea WINGS pin for that accomplishment. Be sure to modify your WINGS Profile to show you hold a seaplane rating. The system will confirm that you actually hold a Seaplane rating when you request the Sea WINGS pin.

Helpful Tips:

- We have preselected some activities for you in the checklist below. If you would like to change the activity we've picked for you, you can find a different activity using the Search link under the More Choices column.
- To print your WINGS completion certificate, go to your WINGS Logbook and click on the Phase completion date. Click on the "View/Print Certificate" link.

13. We have received numerous comments that the Courses, Seminars & Activities tab was not user friendly. We cleaned it up so that there are fewer links and so that appropriate information is all on one page. We also put the list in alphabetical order so it now reads, Activities, Courses & Seminars. In addition, the number of choices has been reduced, resulting in more information being displayed on one page instead of two or three.

14. As part of the overall change noted just above, three links in the “sign-in” panel, My Activities, My Courses, and My Seminars, were moved. A review showed that very few users took advantage of those links in this location. That information is now more conveniently located in one place under the new Activities, Courses & Seminars tab. This sign in area is now dedicated to user information, such as links to your Airman profile and your personal preferences. In addition, the obsolete Help link was replaced by the FAQ link.

Note the “Print this Activity Checklist” icon, which should be used by pilots to print a copy of the WINGS requirements for that pilot, which they can take to their instructor for their flight.

23. Improvements to the system and view of a current phase have been made when an Advanced or Master phase meets the credit requirements, but the user does not hold a current phase of WINGS at the Basic level. Remember, you must hold a “Current” phase of wings at the Basic level before an Advanced or Master level phase can be awarded. “Current” in the WINGS Program means earned within the previous 12 calendar months.

This makes it possible for the user to print the details about an activity, including information about how the credits apply to their current phase of WINGS! With the exception of the Activities search results page, all "View Credit" links have been replaced by the "inline" credit display. In addition, hovering over an credit applicability icon provides a helpful description as to whether that credit earned would apply to the user's current phase, or a future phase of WINGS (see Activity Details page and Seminars Search results page)

27. When you printed an event in the past, the WINGS or AMT Credit available was not shown because of the “View Credit” link being used. The credit is now displayed directly.

The image shows two versions of an event credit display, labeled 'Old' and 'New' with red arrows pointing to the respective sections.

Old: A box containing the text: 'Additional Seminar Information & Acknowledgement of Industry Sponsor(s):', 'Credit Applicability: View Credit', and 'FAASite Project'. A red arrow points from a red 'Old' label to the 'View Credit' link.

New: A box containing the text: 'Additional Seminar Information & Acknowledgement of Industry Sponsor(s):', 'Credit Applicability: 1 credit for Basic Knowledge 3', and 'For more information click here.'. A red arrow points from a green 'New' label to the '1 credit for Basic Knowledge 3' text.

28. We had some reports that attempts to change an email address were sometimes unsuccessful. We finally discovered the reason and have fixed that “bug.” In most cases, there is no need to ask “Support” to change your email address - Just use the link on the Home page.
29. We added the signature of Michael L. Costa, FAASite Manager, to all completion certificates that will be issued after September 14, 2011.
30. We are working diligently to update all of the Help pages and the FAQ on the site. We are also working on a revision to the WINGS User’s Guide. These updates should be available in September.

Changes Applicable to FAASite Program Managers and/or FAASite Representatives

1. When FAASite Representatives and FPMs close out an event, a zero is no longer an acceptable entry for the number of attendees at that event. It is vital that we accurately report the attendance at safety events. Please enter a correct number of attendees.

The screenshot shows the 'Event Closeout' form. At the top, it says 'Event Closeout' and 'In order to close out this event, you must enter the following information.' Below this is the 'Event Closeout Information' section. It includes a table with the following data:

Event Title & Select Number	Attended	Name
"Distractions, Stress and the Human in 2011 CE2139896	<input type="checkbox"/>	Heath Broussard
	<input type="checkbox"/>	James D. Williams
	<input type="checkbox"/>	Gerald Wiltshire

Below the table, there is a note: 'Note: Providing WINGS credit for attendees registered in the list above is now entered in the event's information and press the "Closeout" button to receive WINGS credit. Otherwise, you will be required to provide WINGS credit.' There is also a field for '* Total Attendees' with a text input box.

2. New text on the FAASTeam Representative Application page clarifies that completion of the Representative training courses (online in the Course Catalog) are required for the application to be processed further.

FAAFTeam Representatives

Aviation safety volunteers that wish to work closely with FFAAFTeam Program Managers (FPM) to actively promote safety may be designated as FFAAFTeam Representatives. These volunteers will receive training and will be supported by the FPM with equipment and materials. Persons desiring to participate as a FFAAFTeam Representative should speak with their FPM (Click here to view the FFAAFTeam Directory) prior to applying. In addition, for your application to be considered, you must satisfactorily complete the two FFAAFTeam Representative's online courses, available in the Course Catalog.

Reminder for FPMs: When a Representative application is received and the two online courses are not complete, check the "Under Review" selection, and do not submit the application to your RFM until both courses are completed.

3. At the request of many FPMs, we now include the number of emails sent and the date, and the number of post cards sent, if any, and the date this request was sent to the printing contractor. This information is presented on both the Seminar Management page and on the Event Registration Information page for FPMs and RFMs. Remember, these numbers may be different from what was requested due to new FFAASafety.gov registrations and changes to user email preferences. This data will be available for events held on or after September 1, 2011.

4. While closing out an event, it occurred to a Lead Representative in Georgia that the color-coding could be improved when selecting users who should get credit. He suggested that it would be better to have the individual selected in red, then displayed in green after the credit is awarded. We agree, except that we chose gold instead of red, and this change is included with this group of enhancements.

The red color will be used to call your attention to an error or other important information.

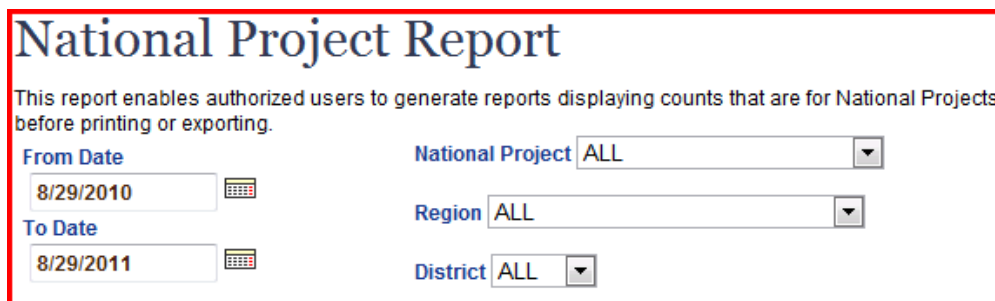

asrcornir [redacted]
 That user has already received credit for this event.

5. Changes to the SPANS template add additional default entries to make creating a seminar from a template even simpler! We've added "Event has a Cost?", "Is this a CFI Workshop?", "FAAFTeam Project Information", and "National Project information". These additions are for future templates only. Current templates will need to be modified if you wish to add these changes.

6. There have been some random occurrences of the Bulk Credit Upload feature not working for some Representatives. We found one instance where there was a “White Space” at the end of a user’s email address; these white spaces are hard to detect! We also found instances of a “White Space” at the beginning of an email address. These random instances create havoc in the system! Please be careful not to use a space at the beginning or end of an email address when creating an account and especially when creating a Bulk Upload csv file. Bulk upload should now work well for FAA Team Program Managers, Lead Representatives, Representatives, Training Providers, and Employers.
7. In the month of October (we are coordinating with the Airman Registry) you will be able to choose Powered Parachute and Weight Shift Control certificates and ratings, as well as Sport Pilot Instructor, as demographic airman options in Seminar Management, Notice Management, and the GeoStats Tool.
8. We note that at this time, the Mozilla Firefox browser does not work properly when approving a SPANS event. You must use Internet Explorer.

Changes Applicable to FAA Management

1. For National managers, as well as FPMs and RFMs, the National Project Report has been significantly enhanced. The Report now shows the total number in attendance at events, and it allows the user to select a single Project to review, and/or to display results for a single Region or District.

A screenshot of a web form titled "National Project Report". The form is enclosed in a red rectangular border. At the top, the title "National Project Report" is displayed in a large, blue, serif font. Below the title, a line of text reads: "This report enables authorized users to generate reports displaying counts that are for National Projects before printing or exporting." The form contains several input fields and dropdown menus. On the left side, there are two date selection fields: "From Date" with the value "8/29/2010" and "To Date" with the value "8/29/2011". Each date field has a small calendar icon to its right. On the right side, there are three dropdown menus: "National Project" with the value "ALL", "Region" with the value "ALL", and "District" with the value "ALL". Each dropdown menu has a small downward-pointing arrow to its right.

2. Duplicate emails to National Managers about Training Provider applications and course submissions have been discontinued.
3. At the request of an RFM, and for the convenience of those managers who approve SPANS events, the order of presentation on the SPANS review and approval page is now in pure date order. In other words, we ignore the free vs. cost status on this page only.
